DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of the information disclosure statement and amendment filed 12/01/2004.

The rejections under 35 USC, first paragraph for enablement, and 35 USC 103 over Brand are hereby withdrawn.

The following rejection is maintained in this action:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102b) as being anticipated by Bernstein et al.

Bernstein et al disclose a method of treating painful disorders comprising administration of civamide in a vehicle appropriate for the skin or mucosal membranes, including nasal mucosa. In particular, the reference teaches that 0.001 – 1.0% civamide is delivered (see column 2, lines 1-49). The composition itself is administered over a period of two to four weeks before administration is discontinued. The treatment of neuropathies and arthritis are disclosed at col. 3, lines 5-11. Therefore, applicant administers the same bioactive (civamide), in the same vehicles, for the same art recognized purpose, and for the same duration of time. The "long-lasting effect" or duration of pain relief is an inherent property of applicant's use of the same treatment protocol disclosed by Bernstein et al. The instant method claims are anticipated by Bernstein et al.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/01/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the method of Bernstein does not anticipate the instant method because the long-lasting effect claimed is not disclosed by Bernstein et al. However, as cited above, applicant administers the same bioactive (civamide), in the same vehicles, for the same art recognized purpose, and for the same duration of time. The "long-lasting effect" claimed by applicant is an inherent result of the same method claimed by Bernstein et al. No method steps differ in any way from that which is instantly claimed. Further, no comparative showing has been provided to indicate that Bernstein et al would not have the long lasting effect claimed. The rejection under 35 USC 102b) over Bernstein et al is therefore maintained.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
